EDUCATION

Jason Walcott attended Kean University in Union, New Jersey from September of 1993 to January of 1997 where he earned a Bachelor's of Fine Arts with a specialization in Illustration. He graduated cum laude. He continued to paint and learn on his own in the ensuing years through a number of workshops, including Daniel Edmondson's "Art Masters Program" (2013).

STYLE

Jason paints in oils and soft pastels in what is commonly known as "abstract realism"—a style characterized by an "idealized" interpretation of the subject. His work consists primarily of still life and landscape scenes that are very painterly, combining loose brushwork with dramatic lighting.
